

Role Play Scenarios for Communication Unit

Early Childhood and Development Services

You are a child care professional in a local day care setting. A parent approaches you in the grocery store and asks you about the Smith child. She has heard that the child is very aggressive and is concerned about the safety of her child. A conversation begins.

Family and Community Services

You are the activities director at an assisted living center. One of the residents becomes verbally abusive toward you during a planned activity.

You are a youth director for the local Boy's and Girl's Club. An employee approaches you and asks for a conference to discuss an issue that he/she is concerned about. At the conference, she shares that she is upset at the gossip she has been hearing from some of the teens at the center are sharing about one of the male employees. The alleged behavior is inappropriate.

Personal Care Services

As a personal trainer, you have an appointment to meet a new client. A very obese young man enters your office carrying a large 20 ounce soda. He states that he is only here because his parents are insisting that he come.

Consumer Services

You are a certified financial planner working with a young married couple. You are meeting to discuss their financial goals with them. The young woman states that she sees no reason why they need to be saving for retirement at this age.

Counseling and Mental Health Services